

Chainmail Curtain - Flexible Metal Mesh for Modern Decorative Applications

Chainmail Curtain is a versatile and visually striking metal mesh made from countless interlinked metal rings. Inspired by the historic armor used in medieval Europe, this durable and flexible material has been reimagined for contemporary architectural and interior design use.

Crafted from stainless steel or aluminum, Chainmail Curtains offer a combination of strength, fluidity, and metallic elegance. Its semi-transparent structure creates a dynamic visual barrier that allows airflow and light transmission while offering spatial separation.

Key Features:

- Unique Texture and Movement: The interlocking ring design delivers a soft draping effect, offering both industrial charm and artistic fluidity.
- Durable and Corrosion-Resistant: Suitable for long-term use in a wide range of environments.
- Fireproof and Low Maintenance: Ideal for public spaces where safety and cleanliness matter.
- Customizable Options: Available in different ring sizes, finishes (polished, matte, anodized), and colors to suit specific design themes.

Applications:

- Interior curtains or space dividers in hotels, restaurants, and shopping malls
- Ceiling decoration or wall cladding in commercial buildings
- Fireplace screens, art installations, and stage backdrops
- Exhibition booth design or retail display partitions

Chainmail Curtain is not just a functional partition — it's a bold statement of modern style, combining historical inspiration with cutting-edge design. Whether you're enhancing an open-concept space or adding texture to a minimalist interior, chainmail mesh offers both form and function.
